

Coram Deo

2011 Higher Things Conferences

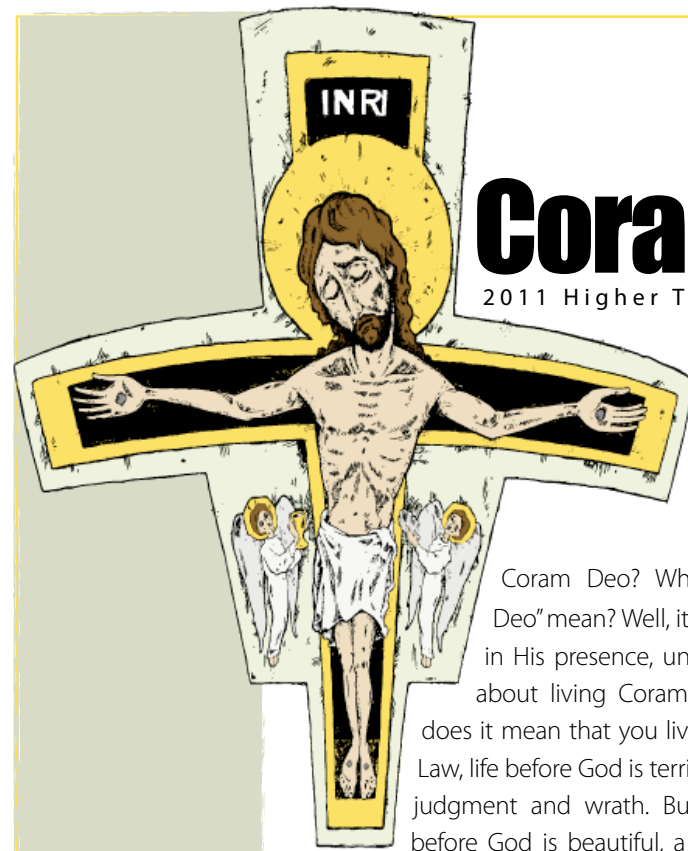

Coram Deo? What exactly does “Coram Deo” mean? Well, it’s Latin for “before God,” as in His presence, under His reign. Think a bit about living Coram Deo, before God. What does it mean that you live Coram Deo? Under the Law, life before God is terrifying. It is living under His judgment and wrath. But under the Gospel, life before God is beautiful, a restoration of what God intended when He made Man in the beginning.

“Can mortal man be righteous before God? Can a man be pure before his Maker?” (Job 4:17) This is the core religious question: How can a sinner destined to die stand before a righteous and holy God? Only by grace through faith for Christ’s sake!

Dare to Be Lutheran

"Dare to be Lutheran" is our motto at Higher Things. We dare the young, emerging adults of our churches to be Lutheran. This means dare to be different. We dare to be Christ-centered, putting the person and work of Jesus Christ for the justification of the sinner at the center of what we believe, teach, confess, and sing. We dare to embrace the Lutheran Confessions as our own and challenge our young people to do the same, standing in solidarity with their father and mothers, grandfathers and grandmothers. We dare to worship liturgically, historically, and traditionally, recognizing that we are not the first to believe nor will we be the last, should the Lord tarry in His appearing.

Higher Things holds multiple conferences each summer, hosting anywhere from 350–1200 young Lutherans at each conference. We've visited both coasts and a bunch of cities in between and taken them by storm! Our all-inclusive conferences are very reasonably priced for groups to attend annually, and they provide a great opportunity for youth to learn more about what Christ's death on the cross means for them while meeting other Lutherans their age from all over the world. At Higher Things conferences, the worship is worshipful, the study is studious, and the fun is, well, fun!

Higher Things is an official Recognized Service Organization (RSO) of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod.
